

Online Intelligence Company Profile

Who are we

Online Intelligence was formed in 2001 as a partnership after which Online Intelligence (Pty) Ltd was established in 2003 with the vision of becoming the leading and preferred supplier for specialized risk management software in South Africa.

We are a dynamic, fast growing company with a large range of products that can be deployed in most industry sectors. We are committed to customer satisfaction and we are ready and able to compete in global markets.

Through dedicated leadership and teamwork we will demonstrate our commitment to delivering a caring, professional service. Our integrity, values and ongoing investment in our people and technology provides exceptional and continued, sustainable growth.

Products

We are specialists in a unique discipline and therefore offer unique products and services. Online Intelligence develops all its applications in-house. Constant innovation is the driving force behind our success.

Besides a number of generic products and services, we also design products or render specific services to meet the requirements of our clients. We are proud of our personal involvement in projects for our clients and our continued maintenance program once projects conclude.

Our strengths are in local market leadership and the capacity to rapidly develop and introduce new products across industry sectors.

Equity

Online Intelligence believes in rewarding excellence in the workplace and is committed to the principles of Employment Equity.

Online Intelligence respects the freedom and dignity of all people regardless of race, colour, religion, gender or political persuasion. We promote equal opportunity and fair treatment in employment through the elimination of any form of unfair discrimination or prejudice.

We will expand the black membership of our executive management and will monitor and evaluate all appointments to ensure that they reflect our ultimate employment equity goals.

What we do

Security, risk management and investigative capabilities of companies are becoming more and more dependent on the development of sound intelligence through the support of information technology.

A high technology integrated approach is an international trend that empowers companies and security departments to fight crime effectively and manage other related environments – like health, safety and loss control – professionally and efficiently. The risks posed by industry specific incidents are never static and result in a dynamic ever-changing process guided by tension between protectors and offenders.

Within this arena Online Intelligence develops innovative multiuser software applications, which transforms collected risk, and security related information into structured intelligence. These applications help you structure, visualise, analyse, and manage your data on all functional and managerial levels of the security, investigative, analysis and risk management environment.

Through our products and services we strive to enable our clients to adapt an intelligence driven security approach. Essential in this approach is effective collection, dissemination and interpretation of information. This enables enhanced utilisation of existing infrastructure and resources and allows for the formulation and implementation of effective counter measures and to assist in the development of proactive risk mitigation strategies.

BEE

We recognise that inequalities exist in employment, education and skills. Online Intelligence will contribute towards uplifting previously disadvantaged individuals through empowerment initiatives. We are focused on developing employee skills at all levels and expanding our employment equity programs.

Online Intelligence will continue to seek BEE partners to add value in our business, particularly where we can enable mutual growth. We are in ongoing discussions with like-minded black owned businesses and constantly pursue empowerment opportunities.
